FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, 1872.

Congress adjourns to-day for a seventeen days vacation, so as to spend the holidays and have time to recover from the effects. It seems rather an expensive luxury for Uncle Samuel to pay for, but he can doubtless stand it, though the work of the session will be materially retarded by the adjournment. Congress might better meet on the first of January, or soon after, and extend the session for a month later than to come together and spend a month in doing comparatively little as now. Generally the important measures are postponed until "after the holidays," and then the press of business comes. Considerable has been accomplished the last three weeks. More than usual, perhaps, but if the holidays had not been in anticipation, probably double the work would have been done.

As may be supposed, when Congress pays so much attention to Christmas, the people at large have due regard for it. We all, even in Oregon, make considerable preparation for it, and indulge in all manner of gift enterprises about that time, and the people of the District of Columbia seem to have supplies laid in fully equal to the occasion. The fancy and book stores are crowded, and, of course, they present a gay aspect to the passer by.

It is considerable of an objection to residence in this city this winter that the smallpox is very prevalent. The statements of the Board of Health show that there have been hundreds of cases during the year past and nearly two hundred deaths. Cold weather seems to cause its increase, and the disease is more prevalent now than heretofore. It is chiefly with the colored population who are a very careless race, and persist in not making the disease known until after they have died of it—to indulge a Hibernianism.

THE WEATHER.

The weather has become abominable. We had sleet the other day day which froze and gave us horrible walking, though it was solid enough for a while. Then it came off warmer and the solidity of things deteriorated. Then it snowed and left a delightful muchness under foot, and that we are having the benefit of now. Give me the Webfoot rains in preference to the snowing, sleeting, and thawing that are peculiar to this eastern hemisphere.

OREGON APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. Fairchild who was lately confirmed as Indian Agent at Siletz, received his nomination on the recommendation of the Secretary of the Methodist Board of Missions of New York. I notice that Postmasters have been re-appointed and confirmed where it was necessary, at several points in Oregon—Waldron at the Dalles, Wakefield at Portland, Bacon at Oregon City, and Patterson at Eugene. I understand their terms had expired and they were therefore reappointed.

Mr. Frostand, the excellent Postmaster at Albany, resigned in favor of his brother-in-law, Mr. Perry Raymond, who was well indorsed, and no doubt will be very satisfactory to the Albanians.

I hear of no other steps to change or make appointments for our State. The matter will be attended to after awhile, no doubt—when the new members from our State arrive—and when the applications are all made. It is rather lonesome here now for an Oregonian as to Oregon society.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Just at the present time very great and much needed improvements are being carried on in this city, and Congress will probably conclude to pay about a million dollars towards the work. This question has been up during the month, will probably be acted on in the Senate to-day and be passed without serious objection. About twenty per cent. of the city is said to consist of the Government reservations, and the citizens, who are being heavily assessed to carry on the improvements, naturally ask the Government to pay for paving and sewage opposite the Government ground.

THE LOUISIANA MUDDLE.

Yesterday the delegation of citizens from Louisiana had a long conference with the Attorney General and then with the President, but accomplished nothing by their mission. The President leaves the whole matter to the U. S. Courts, and then sustains the Courts. The country will sustain him in so doing. The best solution, or rather account of the whole affair, is contained in the lucid summary of the Attorney General, which relates the facts so plainly that the position of the President, as well as of the U. S. Court at New Orleans, should be well understood and respected, but it doesn't satisfy the "Liberal" element, and even the N. Y. Tribune takes an unfair view of the matter. It is to be hoped that Colfax will soon take possession of the editorship and deal fairer with public measures.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Speaking of appointments, the passage of the amendment to the Internal Revenue law dispenses with assessors and their assistants, and adds to the duties of the collectors the discharge of the duties that the Assessor's Department has hitherto attended to. This will lessen the months to be fed out of the public crib and make our revenue collectors earn their money by increased labor.

CREDIT MOBILIER.

The investigation as to the use of the stock of Union Pacific Credit Mobilier has been vigorously prosecuted but has not resulted in convicting any members of the House of having received the stock as a consideration for his influence. It seems that some of the prominent Democrats—Brooks of New York, for one—were stockholders, but they purchased their stock or got it honorably they say, and as there seems to be no disposition to conceal facts, and when examined the interest of Congressmen seems to have been honorably acquitted, there is no reason to expect that the investigation will prejudice any body. It is in a little remarkable that such investigations generally are futile. As the charges were made in a heated canvass we may naturally suppose that in this instance they were dictated by prejudice.

SUMNER ON BATTLE FLAGS.

The House has lately settled the question as to removing of inscriptions from battle flags—as proposed by Sumner—by sending to the Senate a resolution adverse to so doing. Sumner seems to have a chronic disposition to be uncomfortable on all popular subjects and it is not probable that even Massachusetts will consider his services indispensable in his present state of mind.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Matters important to our coast are not abundant and correspondents make dry work of it—so they tell me. After the holidays we may have something of more interest to tell about. The supposition in some quarters is that the Goat Island question has disappeared from view and will not come up this session. I am assured, however, that it will be apt to come up again after the recess, and that it is likely to pass the Senate. The delegation in the House is unanimous for it and they will exercise considerable influence thereby.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Corbett returned this week. The Senator and family will remain in this city during the vacation. He has a handson residence on Thirteenth street, quite near the avenue and not far from the best hotels and President's mansion and other public offices.

Senator Kelly looked well and commands respect from the fact that he is attentive to business. There are few more genial men anywhere, and he never makes pretentions he cannot sustain.

Mr. Slater has been out of his seat several days, probably suffering still from a bad cold and not caring to face this weather.

Judge Williams fills with great ability the position of Attorney General, and appears to thrive well in it, if we can judge by general appearance. The office has not been more acceptably filled in public estimation for many years, if ever.

Geo. E. Cole, Esq., arrived two days since, and complains of not being in good health, but his appearance is all right.

Mr. Kincaid, of the State Journal, is comfortably filling a very good position in the Senate, and of course fills it well. He is a sort of standing representative of Oregon, having been here for a number of years, and people from our State generally find him out.

OREGON.

The citizens of Salem are taking steps to build a city wharf.

Studies have been resumed at Wallamet University, after the holiday vacation.

Major Bruce of Benton county, was the purchasor of the steamer Calliope, at Sheriff's sale at Oregon City, last Friday. We did not learn the price paid.

Luap year wasn't a success in Linn county—there being a decrease of 14 marriages from the previous year. In 1871 there were 95; in 1872 only 81.

B. R. Holt, Esq., of Harrisburg, received a Christmas present of a fifty pound box full of chestnuts, hickory nuts and walnuts, all the way from the "old home" at Greenville, East Tennessee.

And now comes William S. Clark, of Cochoco Valley, and wants to know where is James Clover, who left that valley last July and intended to return. He is a tall man, dark complexion, and 32 years old.

A correspondent of the Democrat writing from Ochoco says: "The winter has been mild and pleasant. There have been three light snows, but they did not last long, and a few small rain showers, but not enough to raise the creeks so as to start the saw mills yet."

The Commercial Mills on the Yamhill, near McMinnville, have been compelled to suspend operations for more than a week past on account of the drift in the river which prevents them from shipping their flour and feed. The drift is lodged against the bridge built at St. Joe. The "draw" in the draw-bridge won't draw.

The Salem Statesman says: "The price for good white wheat has advanced to 90 cents per bushel. Large quantities are being sold at that figure. Mr. R. C. Kinney informed us that he yesterday purchased 10,000 bushels at the above rate, and the farmers are rapidly disposing of their last year's crop, being satisfied with the prices offered.

The following officers of Oregon Lodge No. 3, I. O. O. F., of Oregon City, were installed in their respective places last Thursday evening: A. C. Baily, N. G.; J. D. Locey, V. G.; W. H. Pope, R. S.; J. Wortman, Treas.; J. M. Bacon, P. S. The installation was conducted by Grand Master Apperson. After the ceremonies, short and appropriate addresses were made by Messrs. Apperson, McGown, Warren, Locey, Baris and Noltner.

The Statesman of Friday has this: "The steamers Fannie Patton and Shoo Fly came up the river yesterday, touching for a few moments at this place. The Fannie Patton was bound for Corvallis and the Shoo Fly for Eugene City. The steamer Alice came down last evening from above bringing about 150 tons of freight, including 1,700 bushels of wheat for the Salem mills. She will finish her load at those mills with about 50 tons of flour. The river has come to a standstill, after falling to a good boating stage.

Many former citizens of Linn county have settled on Willow Creek, Wasco county. The greatest need of that country is mills, especially sawmills. Timber is abundant and convenient. The mills would of necessity be run by steam, as there is not a sufficient flow of water in that country to run a sash saw. The prices of "ranches" range from $1,000 to $6,000, with scarcely any sellers. Last harvest the grain averaged from 45 to 50 bushels per acre—one man realising 1,500 bushels of grain from 26 acres. Vegetables are superabundant, and of the most superior varieties.

A Douglas county correspondent of the Advocate is rather severe in his remarks on the Oregon style of agriculture, and on the "land grabbers" of that section of our State. He says: "This whole section of country is characterized and cursed by a loose and slovenly mode of agriculture. The steer, the sheep, and the swine is the mighty Moloch at which the people bow. Therefore the supreme good is land, and the chief delight of the people—mere land, a larger sheep range, and a more extensive stock ranch is the satisfying portion for which they stretch forth their hands. It is a sad calamity for any country or section thereof to fall into the hands of land grabbers; they shut out society, civilization, morality and education, and worst of all they shut out Christ."

THE TERRITORIES.

The bill for the establishment of an assay office at Helena, Montana, has passed the U. S. Senate.

A stable and three horses were burned up at Helena on the 11th ult. A mule in the same building had his eyes burned out but escaped alive.

Wm. Kirkland was recently tried for a murder committed in Chehalis county, W. T., and the costs in the case exceeded the Territorial tax due from that county for 1872 by $681 59.

Fifty miners in the Caribou mine, Colorado, have struck and declared to be their intention not to allow anybody else to work there until the employer, a Mr. Breed, shall come to their demands.

A gentleman just down from Sitka, reports that Geo. A. Edes, Revenue Collector for that district, has resigned, and will probably return to his home in Salem in the course of the next month.

The contract for the Washington Territorial printing, advertised for by Mr. N. S. Porter, Territorial Auditor, was awarded to R. H. Hewitt, of the Excelsior Job Office, of Olympia, who has had the same contract for three years.

The Alaska Seal Company has paid to the Treasury $52,231 as their tax on the catch of 1872. They are limited to 100,000, and the catch this year was within 4,000 of the maximum. The above amount represents our interest on the $7,000,000 paid for Alaska.

The Northwest, of Deer Lodge, Montana, says under date of the 14th ult.: "A brisk snow storm began yesterday morning, striking Deer Lodge before it did Helena. Its effect upon the telegraph line was very unusual, the current becoming so strong in the Deer Lodge office that the instrument could scarcely be heard. Messrs. Willey and Fredericks did not know what to make of it, the Deer Lodge office thinking Helena had switched all the batteries on this line. As the storm passed on toward Helena, the current settled down all right again. Has this anything to do with the earthquake?"

SATURDAY MORNING JANUARY 11 1873

An Independent Judiciary.

We took occasion yesterday in connection with the subject of the salaries of the Judges to remark upon the importance of the Judiciary as the branch of the Government peculiarly enfeebled by reason of the learning sobriety and wisdom which are supposed to be essential qualifications for judicial positions to protect the community against the consequences of legislation prompted by passion or dictated by influences still more dangerous The Constitutions of the Federal and State Governments have happily such safe-guards against oppressive legislation upon most subjects, that a firm and independent judiciary is all that is needed to secure the people in their individual rights against all very serious encroachments by the legislative or executive branches of the Government The Courts have no veto power that has in many cases come in and saved the individual when there was no other resource This veto power, unlike that of the executive, is to be exercised, not at the discretion of the Judges, but in accordance with certain rules which neither the Legislature nor the Court has any authority to vary or to disregard The Judge is set to declare the interpretation of the Constitution, not to say what it ought to be, and his decision thereon is the end of all controversy How vitally important, therefore, that the best and the wisest men in the country should occupy the bench.

But there is another phase of this subject that merits consideration. The immense expansion and overshadowing power of private combinations and aggregations of capital within the last few years, while they have caused the rapid development of the resources of the country, have also in many instances procured unrighteous legislation in their interest, and even polluted the channels of justice by tampering with the Judges The infamous proceedings in the Erie Railway litigation illustrate the truth of this. The sad fall of Judge Barnard, impeached and degraded for his yielding to the corrupt overtures of a gigantic private corporation, is an example of it. The disgrace of one of his brethren of the bench just before his own degradation attests it. A hundred decisions, rendered in various courts throughout the country, which have shocked the bar into unwilling suspicions of corruption, but have been passed by with a silent shudder and shrug of the shoulders, have led the intelligent throughout the nation to feel that the last fortress of their defense is already assailed. This feeling prevails to such an extent to-day, that the community watch with a jealous interest the proceedings of every case in which one of these powerful associations is a party, notwithstanding the legal principle involved may be in itself trivial. Such is the anxiety of thinking people upon the question whether the judiciary is able to pass unscathed through the fire of that terrible temptation which gold can bring to bear upon gold thirsty human nature. Newspapers but give expression to a universal sentiment, when they mention, with ill-concealed relief, and copy one from another throughout the length and breadth of the land, every decision made in favor of the weak against the strong Proud that so few of the Judges have proved unequal to the task to which so many are subjected, thinking people yet manifest an almost painful suspense in all the country round about, when any particular Court is placed, though it may be for the tenth or the twentieth time, in the crucible of a case involving great interests, and in which one or both the parties litigant are powerful and wealthy associations.

A Model Missionary Society.

The New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society does a genuine Christian work that will excuse its four story name The object of the society is to carry both the temporal and spiritual blessings of Christianity to a class of people who need just such attention. The "St. Barnabas House," under charge of this society, is at once asylum, hospital, inn, school house, church and employment office. The statistical report of the operations of the society during the year just ended shows Inmates admitted temporarily to the St. Barnabas House, 1,705, sent to situations, 645, sent to institutions, 487, sent to friends, 451; left of their own accord, 45, dismissed, 31, remaining in the house at the close of the year, 46; number of lodgings furnished, 18,206, number of meals furnished 75,585, families visited, 108, individuals visited, 2,809. In the missionary work there have been 279 baptisms 43 confirmations, 8 marriages, 16 burials, 700 Sunday-school children instructed, 1,500 public services held, 35,000 different individuals addressed, and 70,000 persons reached directly or indirectly

This is the twenty-second year of the institution. Its work is one that all can appreciate. Its mission is among the poor whom we have with us always. With little outward show, it is performing a great Christian work Nor is that portion of its labors which has reference to the supplying of the temporal wants of the poor people its least important feature. We mean no irreverence, nor wish to undervalue direct spiritual ministrations But there can be no question that hunger and cold are the cause of much immorality, and that among the most powerful auxiliaries to all reformatory effort are good food and warm clothing. So intimate is the connection between the human conscience and the human stomach, that a good digestion is often mistaken for a good conscience, and torpidity of the liver for total depravity. A Christianity that feeds the hungry, clothes the naked, gives shelter to the homeless, and visits the sick—that finds out and cares for all the natural wants of the poor, the halt and the blind—can reasonably expect the spiritual gospel it preaches and the religion it teaches to be received gladly.

Our North Yamhill correspondent's letter of the 31st ult, is copied into the Albany Register with credit to a correspondent of the Bulletin. We have not the slightest objection to the cabbaging of the letter, but if anybody is to be credited with it on our Albany neighbor's books, we think our correspondent is entitled to precedence—under the circumstances

The faculty of Andover Seminary have addressed a letter to the Old South Society of Boston, strongly urging the preservation of their venerable edifice, and suggesting that it be used as a room for lectures, to be known as Old South Lectures—which is a vast improvement on the idea of pulling it down

It is said that Miss Abbie Boutwell, a sister of the Secretary of the Treasury, contemplates going to Rome shortly to perfect herself in the art of sculpture under the instruction of Powers

Third Oregon

We have no particular sympathy with the habit that prevails among lawyers, of denouncing the multiplication of law books If a man does not like a law book he is not bound to read it just because he is a lawyer It is no more expected to read every law book he hears of than to eat of every dish that may be set before him at a hotel Only those who read worthless law books and those who fail to meet them with good sense when they come into court can possibly suffer from them We find no particular fault therefore with the volume called the Third of Oregon Reports so far as its matter is concerned On the contrary, indeed, we are inclined to think better of the book after some examination, than the bar think of it, if one may believe what the lawyers say—which, we know is sometimes considered problematical For instance, we can by no means assent to the sweeping criticism of one prominent legal gentleman of the city, that, the Circuit Court decisions which make the bulk of the volume, may be all arranged under three classes Those that have been taken to the Supreme Court and reversed those that would have been reversed if they had been taken, and those that contain nothing but legal truisms We withhold our endorsement of this view, because we have found nearly half a dozen of these Circuit Court cases which we consider sound decisions of interesting legal questions

But there is a feature of the book before us, which, in our humble judgment, deserves criticism. Many persons are likely to be led to send for it upon the supposition that, being announced and labeled as "Oregon Reports" it is the decisions of the Supreme Court of the State Its predecessors were such, except a few select cases from the U. S Courts in an appendix to the first volume, and by a similar title are the decisions of the highest Courts of the States usually designated Thus New York Reports, Kentucky Reports, &c., signify, invariably—except in the case of Third Oregon Reports—the adjudication of the highest Courts of those States respectively This volume, however, contains only 169 pages of Supreme Court Reports out of the 611 pages in the book The remainder, except four or five cases from other circuits, are decisions of his honor Judge Upton of the Fourth District, at nisi prius, many of them ill considered, wretchedly reported and wholly unimportant A volume of well selected cases from this district, mainly upon questions of practice, might be very useful to the profession, and we hoped, when it became understood that a volume of the Circuit Court decisions was to be issued, the work would be done with such care, as to make the book valuable to the profession in this State But it was hardly to be expected it would be brought out as 'Oregon Reports" —or would be considered a work of authority

The title page of this book mentions the fact that it contains decisions of the Supreme and Circuit Courts, but it will surprise the profession to find it contains so few Supreme Court decisions, and that most, if not all, of those it does contain are the same heretofore published in the small volumes issued from time to time

We suppose it would be scarcely fair dealing to subject a volume of judicial decisions to grammatical criticism—though we hardly know why—and we therefore forbear

The Credit Mobilier investigation adjourned to January 7th. When it resumes, it should be with open doors The charges were publicly made and there was an unusual publicity about the manner in which the committee for their investigation was raised The sitting with closed doors, unless it is rendered necessary by the press of spectators, does not strike one as the most logical continuation of a proceeding inaugurated with such a grand flourish of trumpets. The committee, very properly, decided that the investigation should not be permitted to extend to any collateral matters in connection with the Credit Mobilier concern, but must be limited to the specific charges made against members of Congress This being the case, there would seem to be no reason why the investigation should be conducted in secret. The scandal could not possibly be made worse than it was, except by proof of the truth of the accusations, which nobody supposes possible. But even if their truthfulness could be established, the implicated Congressmen themselves challenged the investigation, and impliedly consented that the truth should be made public. So, in whatever light the matter is viewed, there appears no occasion for a secret investigation, which is, itself, likely to give rise to additional scandal.

The Louisiana imbroglio, like that in Alabama, becomes more serious. The Warmothites propose to inaugurate their candidate for Governor in spite of the decisions of the Courts, and the other party, considering such conduct revolutionary, propose to prevent it at the point of the bayonet, if necessary. It can hardly be possible that matters will be forced to these extremities. The Federal Government will feel itself bound to enforce obedience to the decrees of the Courts, and it should seem that the Warmothites ought to see how utterly futile will be any physical opposition they could make to the General Government The decision of the Courts may be incorrect, but they are the last resort, and their decisions upon questions within their jurisdiction, are to be enforced with the whole power of the Government, without stopping to institute a rigid inquiry as to their correctness There can be but one end to this conflict between the Louisiana authorities and the Federal Government, and the sooner the former become convinced of that fact the better it will be for all concerned.

On the 19th of December a bill for the admission of Utah to the Union as a State, was introduced as an amendment to the pending bill to admit Colorado It allows the State one Representative in Congress till the next general census, sets apart two sections of land in every township for common school purposes, donates fifty sections for the construction of public buildings, and an equal number for a penitentiary, seventy-two sections for a State university, and five per cent of the proceeds of all other public lands for the construction of roads and means of irrigation The bill makes no allusion to polygamy or any other of the peculiar institutions of Mormonism

By the burning of a theatre adjacent to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, a day or two since, fire was communicated to that building, and when an effort was made by the employees about the premises to use the hose of the establishment, it was found to be all unjointed and unfit for service. Less than a month ago a large number of serving women in that hotel were roasted alive by a fire that broke out inside the building and was not reported till relief became impossible What will be the next evidence of reckless disregard of the lives of the guests and employees by the proprietors of that house can not be predicted.

The opposition to the Republican party seem unable to agree upon a name by which they shall be called The Democrats dislike to give up their old name, and the others are not willing to be called Democrats We don't see why simply opposition is not name enough It exactly expresses all their principles and policy Opposition to everything that is, without any idea what ought to be, is the basis of their co operation

Some of the California papers comment in very friendly terms on the action of Governor Booth in commuting the sentence of the murderer Donovan from death by hanging to imprisonment for life The commutation was asked for by a larger number of respectable and industrious persons, than ever signed a similar petition before in the State

The Chronicle gives the names of 237 couples who were divorced in San Francisco during the year 1872 Fifty eight were obtained on application of the husband, leaving nearly three-fourths of the cases wherein the nuptial knot was untied at the suit of the wife The list is headed 'Couples that God joined together and man put asunder'

On the 19th of December Senator Corbett's bill for the improvement of the Yamhill river was read twice and referred to the Committee on Commerce and ordered printed. The same disposition was made of a bill introduced by Mr Corbett to amend the act granting the right of way to the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad Company

Attorney General Williams denies having expressed the opinion attributed to him that Spencer is legally elected United States Senator from Alabama His expressed opinion went no further than that if it should be determined that the Court House Legislature was a lawful Legislature, Spencer would be entitled to his seat.

The New York Evening Post says that the case with which murderers are cleared, has aroused public attention in that city, and that measures are being devised to be presented to the Legislature to secure the punishment of that class of offenders The present laws are declared to be wholly inadequate to

A dispatch from Vallejo says the measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria, prevail among the children of that town just now The operator doubtless forgot to mention the whooping cough and chicken pox

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 4, 1873.

CITY.

INDEPENDENT GERMAN SCHOOL.—The New Year's festival given by the pupils of the Independent German School, at the corner of Ninth and Morrison streets, on Wednesday evening, was a very pleasant and instructive occasion. The large school room was densely crowded by the patrons, parents and invited friends of the school. In fact, the room was so thronged as to be uncomfortable, and to render the hearing to all portions of the hall indistinct and difficult. After the audience was collected, the teacher, Mr. Harold, called the pupils to order and introduced the President of the evening, Mr. Chas. V. Wintzingerode, who came forward and delivered a neat and appropriate address to the pupils. Several German songs were next sung by the whole school. These songs were discoursed with effect, and in good taste. Declamations in both English and German followed by several of the pupils. At the conclusion of this part of the exercises, presents, consisting of German books, were distributed among the school. Every pupil was presented with a book. Distribution of the books being ended, the Christmas tree, which had been provided for the occasion, was denuded of its many rare and highly prized presents, to the infinite satisfaction of the little folks. This being ended, a bountiful cold collation, which had also not been neglected, was passed around among those present. While the lunch was being discussed, some very excellent music was rendered by Messrs. Frantz and Miller, the former on a zither, and the latter accompanying on the guitar. The audience was next entertained by a performance on the zither by Miss Apolina Konig, a little girl aged about nine years. She performed a number of airs on that instrument in a really excellent manner, which won for her much merited applause. The declamations delivered at the opening of the exercises were of a character calculated to reflect much credit on the pupils, and evinced much care, study and painstaking instructions by the tutor. The declamation of Master Kaufman, a little fellow scarce above eight years, was splendid for one so young, and worthy of special mention. The programme from the opening to the finale was both instructive and entertaining, and speaks in the most commendable terms of the school.

The Independent German School was organized and commenced two years ago last May. At the opening of the school, and for months subsequent, there was an average attendance of only twelve pupils. But the increase in the attendance was constant and encouraging. At the close of the last term the average attendance was 60, with flattering assurances for the future. This prosperous and substantial growth of the school is attributable in a great measure to the able and efficient management of the teacher, Mr. George Harold. The constant increase of the school has rendered the services of an assistant necessary to assume charge of the English department. Mrs. Harold has been filling that position for the last year with satisfaction and profit to the school.

The school was dismissed on the 24th of December to enable the pupils to enjoy vacation during the holidays. Studies will be resumed next Monday.

BARK ATLANTIA.—In speaking of the bark Atlantia, which narrowly escaped total destruction a few days ago near Victoria, the Colonist says: "This dismasted bark, which lies alongside the Hudson Bay Company's wharf, presents a very distressed appearance. The three masts were cut away and went over the side. The main and mizzenmasts were not unstepped; but the stepping of the foremast gave way and the three inch plank was torn up for some distance. The lost sticks, to judge from the stumps, must have been of very superior quality. The total damage is about $6,000, which is covered by insurance in a California office." The same paper states that the steamer Isabel had started out to search for the mast and rigging which had been cut away. These articles were discovered afloat, secured and taken in tow to Cadboro Bay where they were made fast, and a person left in charge. These articles are estimated to be worth at least $4,000. The Atlantia was a coaster, and has run between San Francisco and Portland for several years past.

FINED AND SENT AWAY.—A man named Hembree was arrested in East Portland by the City Marshal of that place, on Thursday, for the larceny of $5, and also for carrying a dangerous weapon on his person. The money he purloined from a drunken man with whom he was engaged in playing a game of cards. The weapon found concealed about his person, consisted of a piece of iron about seven inches in length. A hole was drilled through one end of the bar, and a string run through and tied. By slipping the string over the wrist, the iron was converted into a formidable slung shot. The fellow Hembree is said to be a person of notorious bad reputation. He was fined $10 and costs by the Recorder, and paid the amount. Afterwards the Marshal escorted him to the ferry landing where an affectionate (?) leave was taken of Hembree by the official, who gently hinted that his presence within the corporate limits of that city would no longer be necessary to its peace and dignity.

REPREHENSIBLE CONDUCT.—We observed yesterday crowds of young hoodlums engaged in pelting inoffensive Chinamen. Those victims were attacked while walking along the streets, attending to their own business, or else quietly engaged in sawing wood. It seems to us that it is one of the duties of the police to check this kind of reprehensible sport among the little vandals who take special delight in imposing on the Chinamen. Frequently we notice grown men participating in the diversion. Chinamen should be protected in their persons from such rude and unprovoked indignities, as well as any other person. We insist that the officers should punish such conduct whenever and wherever the perpetrators can be found.

INSTALLATION.—The following are the officers of Baker Post No. 1, G. A. R., who were installed Thursday evening, January 2, 1873, by E. W. Ryan, A. D. C. & M. G.: P. C., Jos. Legrand; S. V. C., H. S. Allen; J. V. C., J. H. Norris; O. D., George C. Sears; Q. M., J. P. Fort; O. G., C. S. May; S. M., Morris C. Webster; Q. M. S., A. W. Powers; Chaplain, W. C. Hitchcock; Surgeon, Scollay Parker; Adj't, E. W. Ryan; Lieut., M. Mulvaney; Council of Administration, Jos. Legrand, H. S. Allen, W. C. Hitchcock, C. E. DuBois, A. Foard, George C. Sears, S. Parker; Bureau of Employment and Relief, H. S. Allen, C. E. DuBois, A. Foard, George C. Sears, S. Parker.

IMPORTANT LECTURE.—Among the many vital questions discussed with great earnest in the present day is, "How far is society responsible for the vices, crimes and wretchedness that exist?" We learn with great satisfaction that the Rev. Dr. Lindsley, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this city, will deliver a lecture on this important subject to-morrow evening in his church on Third street. The occasion of this discourse is the death of a citizen of Portland, who died lately under painful circumstances, and whose funeral services were conducted by the Doctor.

FINGER SEVERED.—At the time of the fire Mr. J. W. Collins, of East Portland, had the end of the middle finger on the right hand crushed off while moving some heavy castings out of the reach of the flames. The wound has since given him great pain and much inconvenience. He had it improperly dressed at the time, so that the finger will have to be cut off. Amputation has become necessary as the end of the bone protrudes beyond the flesh, and the wound stubbornly refuses to heal over.

SERMON TO FIREMEN.—In view of the faithful and laborious services of the Fire Department, and of the late destructive fire in our city, the Rector and Wardens of Trinity Church, at the request and with the consent of Bishop Morris, have invited the firemen of Portland, individually and through their Chief, to attend service on next Sunday evening, at 7 P. M., at which time the Right Rev. Bishop will preach a sermon specially addressed to them.

REVISION COMMENCED.—The Code Commission, consisting of Judge M. P. Deady, and Sylvester D. Simpson, Esq., appointed at the last session of the Legislature to revise and codify the statutes of the State, commenced their labors on Thursday last. Several months will be required before the work will be in a proper condition to place in the hands of the printers, and probably the book will be ready for distribution within a year.

ORGANS.—The Catholic Mission Church at Vancouver, have purchased of Mr. Geo. L. DePrans of this city, a Burdett Grand Combination Organ, which will be sent to that place next Monday. By the next steamer there will arrive another organ, similar to the one just mentioned, which will be sent by the same firm, in a few days to Port Townsend, having been purchased by Perfection Lodge, A. F. & A. M., at that town.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.—The following officers of Hassalo Lodge I. O. O. F., were installed last evening by E. T. Apperson, M. W. G. M., assisted by A. J. Marshall, R. W. D. G. M., and other members of the R. W. G. Lodge of Oregon: E. H. Stolte, N. G.; J. A. Smith, V. G.; S. Harris, R. S.; E. D. Backenstos, Treas.; S. B. Parrish, War.; J. M. Williamson, Con. D. Sprague, O. G.; A. N. Gambell, R. S. to N. G.; Andrew Hill, L. S. to N. G.; Fred C. Barkhouse, I. G.; E. Bird, R. S. to I. G.; Thos. A. Jordan, L. S. to V. G.; H. D. Plants, R. S. S.; John W. Hayne, L. S. S.

ANNUAL ELECTION.—The annual election of officers for the Catholic Library and Christian Doctrine Society, was held last Saturday. The following persons were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. R. Wiley; Vice President, James J. Murphy; Recording Secretary, J. Moynahan; Corresponding Secretary, D. J. Malarkey; Treasurer, H. C. Funk; Librarian, Isaac Lawler; Assistant Librarian, Miss Annie Showers.

REWARDED.—At a recent meeting of Oregon Lodge B'nai B'rith a resolution was adopted returning thanks to Mr. W. A. Hart for his labors in recovering regalias and other valuables belonging to the Lodge from the fire, and a committee was delegated to select a suitable article to be presented to that gentleman. The committee have handed Mr. Hart a gold ring with set stone—a neat and handsome present.

EPIPHANY.—On Monday next, the Catholic church will celebrate the great Feast of the Epiphany, or, as it is sometimes called, Little Christmas. This day being a holyday of obligation, Low Masses will be celebrated in the Catholic church of this city at 6 and 8 o'clock, and High Mass at 10 o'clock A. M. Solemn Vespers and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be had at 7 o'clock in the evening.

INCREASED FREIGHTS.—It is stated that after this date an increase of 50 per ton will be charged by the Oregon Steamship Company on all that class of freight from this port to San Francisco on which the charge has heretofore been $4. This will operate to the serious loss of our flour merchants, whose freight is all of that character, and will leave no margin on that article adequate to the risk of shipping.

STEAMBOAT MACHINERY.—The boilers and engines which are to be used on the new steamer of the Willamette River Navigation Company, are rapidly approaching completion at the Willamet Iron Works. Within thirty days everything connected with the machinery will be finished and in readiness to be placed in the hull. By or before that the hull of the new craft will be launched.

MASQUERADE CARNIVAL.—At the last meeting of the Turn Verein a committee was appointed to effect the necessary arrangements for a grand masquerade carnival, to take place in the month of February. At the next meeting of the Society the committee will make their report. We have no doubt that the affair in prospect will be the grandest carnival ever projected in the city.

DEDICATION CEREMONIES.—The new hall of the Independent Order of Good Templars, corner of Third and Alder streets, will be dedicated this (Saturday) evening, January 4th. The officers of the Grand Lodge of the State of Oregon will be present to conduct the ceremonies of the occasion. The public are invited. Exercises commence at 7:30 o'clock.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.—The newly elected officers of the Portland Turn Verein were installed on Thursday evening. Reports of officers for the past year show a decided improvement in the working of the Society's affairs. After the meeting the members present sat down to a collation which was discussed in social manner.

DREDGER BOILER.—The bark Rival brought up a large boiler and furnace which belongs to the new dredger, now in course of construction. The boiler will be transferred to the new craft soon, which will be brought along side the bark. The engines and portions of the machinery will soon be placed in the hull of the dredger.

SEWER REPAIRED.—Forces of men are now employed by the Street Commissioner in repairing the sewers which have been washed away and torn out in various portions of the city by the late flood. All the available workmen have been engaged, and the sewers will be repaired as soon as it is practicable.

ON THE BERTH.—The bark Wolfoot is now on berth in San Francisco for Portland. She will bring up another large first class locomotive, and the boiler for the steamer Annie Stewart. In addition she will receive on board a large quantity of assorted cargo. She will soon sail for this port.

REQUESTED TO MEET.—The members of Nonpareil Lodge, I. O. G. T., are requested to meet at their hall this evening at fifteen minutes to 7 o'clock, sharp, so as to be able to proceed in a body to the new Templars' Hall and be present during the dedicatory ceremonies of the edifice.

INVITATION ACCEPTED.—We learn that Ellison Encampment, I. O. O. F. of this city have accepted an invitation to be present on the occasion of the installation of the officers of Falls Encampment No. 4, at Oregon City. The installation will take place next Tuesday evening.

PILE DRIVING.—Piles are being driven along between the northern end of McCraken's wharf and southern end of the Gas Company's wharf, to the rear of the Willamet Iron Works. The object is to construct a wharf extension between the two, for the accommodation of vessels, etc.

FREE DISCUSSION.—The Portland Free Discussion Club will meet Sunday at 4 P. M. in Corbett's new building, corner of First and Morrison streets. The subject for free discussion is, "What is The Remedy for Crime." The public are respectfully invited. Seats free.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—A special meeting will be held next Thursday evening by the members of the Father Matthew T. A. B. Society for the election of officers, and the transaction of other important business. A full attendance is desirable.

BARK RIVAL.—The bark Rival reached this city yesterday about 12 o'clock in tow of the tug Astoria. She came from San Francisco with a large assorted cargo, which is being discharged at Flanders' wharf.

SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT OF
The Schools of Multnomah County.

The school law requires only an annual report from the Superintendent, but I take the liberty of dividing the year, and submit to the people herewith a report of the schools, with suggestions for the next six months:

COUNTRY SCHOOLS.

No. 2—(Brooklyn.) Visited August 8th, 26th and Nov. 15th; under excellent care and requiring character for discipline and thoroughness. Room well furnished and the comfort of the children considered. Door double boarded, thermometer used, etc. An assistant is needed for rapidly increasing numbers.

No. 3—(Powell's.) Visited Aug. 21, Sept. 13, Oct. 17th. In good condition, and a good spirit in the district.

No. 4—(Powell's Valley.) Visited Aug. 27th, and Nov. 15th; has a large and commodious two story school house, which should be finished inside by spring. The District has secured the services of a well educated and experienced teacher, under whose care a high standard will be reached. The school should be graded soon, and an assistant employed.

No. 5—Mt. Tabor, Sept. 9. One of our best schools, and under good care. A larger building and an additional teacher are needed, and would encourage a good class of citizens of Portland to make homes in the vicinity. There is no doubt that money spent in this way here and in other Districts, would come back in more ways than one.

No. 6—(Brigman;) No. 10—(Orient;) No. 30—(Holdivers,) are small District schools, creditably maintained. A few dollars spent upon the school houses, in whitewash, seats, etc., would add greatly to their comfort and value. It is hoped, however limited the means of any District, it will see the economy of steadily improving its school advantages, in order to induce settlers.

No. 12—(Lent's,) (Nov. 19.) A small school of good spirit. Mountain it well and now people must come to it soon.

No. 15—Pleasant Valley, (Aug. 27th, Nov. 19.) No better set of children anywhere, and a prosperous season just closed. Cannot a winter school be tried here also?

No. 14—Mt. Zion (Aug. 22d, Nov. 25th.) A growing teacher, who gladly receives suggestions and adopts them. This school will increase rapidly in importance, as all suburban schools will, and the Directors are wise in grounding it well.

No. 15—(Love's;) Aug. 26th, Sept. 3d, and Oct. 3d. More prosperous than ever before. A good teacher and enterprise in continuing him explains this. I believe two adjacent Districts might so engage an efficient teacher, as to make it an object for him to remain the year round. At all events, better to out of a school a while, than hastily employ an indifferent teacher.

No. 17—(Sept. 20, Oct. 17). Will be more than fortunate if they can re-engage the lady who has just closed a term. Her influence would in a year be felt far and near.

No. 19—Sauvie's Island (Nov. 15). School has suffered from poor teachers. The present incumbent is, we think, good, efficient and earnest. A liberal policy on the island in school matters would be rewarded in a few years a hundred fold.

No. 20—(Sept. 3). An excellent school, but when taken up again should have a firm, careful teacher. The present disposition to send children to town is to be regretted. It is costly, discouraging and unwise. Keep them there, and a thorough teacher will bring everything right.

No. 25—St. John's (Sept. 3, Oct. 21). Care is needed in choosing your teacher. The community has suffered losses, but the more cause for maintaining its institutions and bringing people in.

No. 27—Guild's (Nov. 10). An effort will be made to change the lines as to bring to the saw-mill and neighborhood. Wisely managed this will be productive of good to all concerned.

No. 21—East Portland (Sept. 10, Dec. 2), and No. 31—Holladay's Addition (Oct. 11, Nov. 17, Dec. 2). Are schools of great importance, and have thoroughly efficient instructors. The citizens should know that money spent in improving these schools will add to their town more rapidly than all other improvements. The former district should immediately build a well-arranged school-house to accommodate 250 children, and should hold out inducements to the principal sufficient to retain him. We cannot too earnestly urge such measures upon you, nor overrate the influence they would have upon the community. There is fair opportunity for East Portland to keep the public schools where they should be—in the land. Let no short sighted policy intervene.

Other schools have not been in session. The county will be taxed 3 mills the coming year, and the increase of means, it is hoped, will encourage feeble districts to hold terms. The remainder of this report will be devoted to the

SCHOOLS OF PORTLAND.

The schools of our city are in a prosperous condition—perhaps never more so. The present directory is energetic, and determined to bring forward the standard of excellence in every direction. The large tax which the district imposed has stimulated everything. The principals in all departments are thoroughly experienced, and earnestness and efficiency characterize all the class rooms and different grades. The day is not distant when the public schools will be the best we have, and compare favorably with those of older and larger communities.

TEACHERS.

The profession of Teacher is second to none in importance, and when conscientiously filled, is, though laborious, one of the most satisfactory and inspiring. A good Teacher, with a high ideal, strong spiritual and moral endowments, and an analytic and productive mind, possessing magnetic power, tact, resource and enthusiasm, is a force in society, of incalculable worth. It is the privilege of Portland to have such men and women among its teachers. They should be appreciated by us and encouraged. I approve the policy of the Directors, I owing to higher compensation in all departments. A gradual improvement in all salaries, from year to year until a maximum is reached, is in my judgment preferable to sudden or unequal changes. Merit and assiduity will thus be seen to be rewarded—and the best class of teachers will always seek employment with us.

Soon after entering upon the duties of the office, my attention was called to the fact that a higher standard was required in some parts of the State than with us, in granting certificates, and that teachers of moderate attainments held the same rank as experienced men and women. This is in a great part owing to defects in the existing School Law, which does not contemplate properly graded certificates. Acting under the advice of my able predecessor, I have endeavored to raise the standard, especially for city teachers. Printed papers have been prepared, and examinations, almost uniformly, reduced to writing. Any lack of critical and exact knowledge is soon shown in this way. The certificate is then graded on a scale of one hundred credits to each study. Any move in these directions must command the sympathy of all good teachers who are thus defended in their profession.

It is hoped that the possession of a full certificate of high per cent will become an object of ambition and study to all who may not yet have obtained it.

SUPERINTENDENCE OF PRINCIPALS.

Economy of power and efficiency in our schools, depends in great degree upon a proper division of responsibilities. As in the army, so here; and I have suggested to the Directors some steps looking towards a more thorough supervision by the Principals of their subordinates. They are at present holding a quasi-responsibility; but with no ways and means of coming into frequent contact with their assistants or their classes. They should be expected to frequently examine in detail every part of the work in their care, and be empowered in the premises to do so. By occasionally dismissing their own classes in order to be free for other rooms; by having classes taught under their eye, and by meetings with their respective corps of assistants, the whole school would become organic and be doubled in effective value. The full benefit of the graded system depends upon some such complete understanding and discipline. This leads me to speak of

STATED EXAMINATIONS.

In all cities of our country, as soon from reports, great stress is laid upon stated and careful examinations, following every step of the child's career. These are strictly guarded from becoming exhibitions, are usually written, and arouse both classes and teachers to put forth their fullest efforts. Being bona fide examinations, within the school itself, and for a definite object, they are not productive of false pressure, but only concentrate and methodize work. The examination immediately preceding entrance into the High School should be only one of many similar, exercises in which the scholar has been trained to careful and independent thought. I would also recommend that the standard for entering the High School be made more definite and uniform, and no class precipitated from the grammar department till the standard is fully reached. This examination should be made by the teachers of the High School. At small cost, printed papers could be prepared each year, and the whole matter of promotion receive added importance and dignity. This is the custom in St. Louis and other cities.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

To excel in anything, the foundation must be deep and well laid. The reports of Boston, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Chicago and other places, show that in the Primary School can be formed habits of study and mental activity, which indefinitely increase the value of all subsequent work. At this age the child may acquire a quick, animated manner, the art of analysis, and independent thinking, and in short, may form the habit of being alive. These things depend almost absolutely upon the teacher. Were it possible, the highest salaries might well be paid for skillful builders of foundations. The great reforms in education are all working downward to the root, and indicate that primary instruction (the first three or four years of school life), has more to do with the moulding and direction of the mind than all which follows it. We shall make this important topic the subject at some time of a special paper.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

Two or three years ago it was observable that a great deal of the work of the High School was like that done upon a bad stage route, where you must mend the roads as you go along. The teacher must needs stop in the middle of higher algebra to teach a boy how to turn a fraction or; mar the beauties of English literature with prosy memories of forgotten or never learned grammatical rules. Nor have we yet reached the ne plus ultra in this respect, though a rapid change for the better is evident from term to term. It is better to go over less ground in the grammar department, if strictly thorough, than to work in a shallow manner. In grammar and arithmetic especially, the consequences of moreback or routine work are felt in all that is subsequently undertaken. Fifty per cent. of the value of those studies is lost if not made a discipline of exactness and independence. The scholar must know the thing "all around," or he does not know it at all; and the more work done outside of the books in these studies the better. In the Chicago schools we learn that teachers are required to teach without a text book before them; and any teacher who has tried this, in part or whole, understands the reserve power that the method develops. I would suggest, if possible, an increased attention, in all departments preceding the High school, to Mental Arithmetic taught rigorously until the mind acquires the habit of logical reasoning which that study is pre-eminently calculated to unfold. Increased attention should be given in this department to the art of expression, by exercises in free composition, written descriptions, etc. Our grammar schools are in excellent condition as to discipline and earnestness.

HIGH SCHOOL.

We now pass to the High School, an institution in which our citizens and the Directory take a just pride, and in behalf of which the new Central building has been erected this year. Let it not be forgotten however, as said above, that the value of the High School depends in a large measure upon the preliminary work of the other departments. It is sufficient for the present to say of this institution that it is under thoroughly effective management. Careful examinations would perhaps be an addition. The Directors intend to prepare students in this department so that they can enter College directly after graduating.

EVENING SCHOOL.

It upon inquiry it should appear that twenty or more would avail themselves of an evening school, meeting three evenings of a week after work hours, I would heartily recommend such an institution in which beside the ordinary branches there might be taught mechanical drawing, book-keeping and something of mechanics, or other arts. This might lead in the future to winter courses of lectures for the people upon chemistry, geology and other kindred subjects.

Since writing on this topic I learn that the Directors have this matter in contemplation.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS.

In Chicago and other cities the law requires the teachers to hold meetings for mutual edification, and affords them time and facilities for this purpose, by giving up the Friday afternoon school session, and in other ways. Without recommending this as a requirement at present, I earnestly hope that voluntary steps may be taken by the Teachers themselves for holding monthly or semi monthly meetings, and feel sure that the Directors would second any efforts in this direction. Before such an association of Teachers papers might be read, questions discussed, or special lectures delivered. It would partake somewhat of the character of a Normal Institute.

"Cheer Up, and Stand By."

This advice, given by Staff Captain Cuttle to the forlorn Mr. Toots, is cordially extended to all who are laboring under that cloud of depression and melancholy which usually accompanies chronic indigestion, biliousness, habitual constipation and nervous debility. "Cheer up!" woe begone invalids. The causes of your gloomy feelings, though they may be chronic and of long standing, are not incurable. A course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most genial of all vegetable stimulants and correctives, and especially adapted to cases like yours, will relieve you of your bodily ailments and consequent mental misery, speedily, certainly, and without pain. The chills and damps of the present season, in fact, all its atmospheric conditions, are unfavorable to dyspeptic, bilious and nervous sufferers. They need a stimulant, as well as a tonic and alterative. This wholesome vegetable preparation combines the three. While it increases the digestive capacity of the stomach, and changes and regulates the condition of the liver and the bowels, it gives an agreeable impulse to the mental faculties and steadies the nerves. Unmedicated stimulants are never advisable; they are too exciting, and often react disastrously. On the other hand, the above tonics which contain no diffusive stimulant, and are surcharged with drastic evacuants that almost turn a man inside out, are dangerous. The system needs more vitality, and they prostrate it entirely. Hostetter's Bitters has no affinity either with the dangerous excitant or the still more dangerous depletent. It simply strengthens and regulates the body and clears the mind. This is the whole secret of its cures.

Pax Vobiscum.

The following beautiful prayer for peace was written by Col. A H Duganne, who was at the time a Federal prisoner at Tyler, Texas

"Peace unto earth" through all the Christian ages,
From angel lips flew down the Gospel psalm,
And through the solemn hearts of sires and sages,
"Good will to men" is breathed in accents calm.

Yet still the war drums roll and trumpets blaring,
From land to land pealing their cruel jars,
And bootie flags on all the winds are flaring,
And hostile summons sin on earth's still scars

How long, O Lord" we cry— till o'er our pleading
Is swelling the roar of battle's thunderous knell?
How many a gash— a ball— all bruised and bleeding
While dying victims" How long, O Lord how long.

From heaven shall earth turn the heart to brotherhood?
From thence shall the hand to labor come?
There are the fruit, to our thy kingdom's good"

But God of peace! His whirlwinds and his thunder
Speak no of end from the cloud that hid
And all his ancient shapes and signs of wonder
Surround our pathway and encompass us still.

From unconscious in our war decrees by evil men
The voice of is talked with Mammon's unrighteousness,
And all our battle smoke rises
With fire and cloud our pious Hymns
God bids us still— the Eternal Father was not there
By human strivings, and by human hates,
Jehovah's purposes bends not to our pleasures—
What bides His will and Peace His mandate waits

God gives us peace! God gives us back our labors—
Our plows, our looms, our fields of hardy toils,
One blade of corn is worth ten thousand sabres—
One sheaf of wheat outweighs an army's spoils

Storms in Germany.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, writing on Nov 16, says. "For the last three days Berlin has been, so far as telegraphic communications are concerned, cut off from the rest of Europe. On Thursday the farthest town of any importance with which we were in a position to keep intercourse by wire was Halle, and our electric relations with Paris, Cologne, Brussels, Vienna, Frankfort, &c., are not yet fully re-established. The great storm of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning raged over the North of Europe with a violence unprecedented within the memory of living man, indeed, the local annals of the Baltic and Ostsee coasts contain no record of so furious and destructive a tempest for nearly two hundred years past. All the lines of railway radiating to the different points of the compass from this capital have been incumbered with broken or uprooted telegraph poles, business on the Bourse has been at a standstill; sea-walls have been smashed into atoms and trains swallowed up in the great waters. The accounts that reach us to-day from Stralsund, Kiel, Griefswald, Swinemund, &c., read like descriptions of a second deluge. On Wednesday the greater part of Griefswald was under water. The Ost-See stood five feet deep in the streets of that thriving little town. The terrific north-easter which wrought all the damage drove such immense masses of seawater into the harbor of Stralsund, that for many hours quays, streets, store-sheds, drydocks, and the whole adjacent country were submerged, the level attained by the flood being nearly eight feet above high water mark, or three feet beyond the highest level ever hitherto reached—in 1863 on the 6th of November, when the flood touched five feet above high-water-mark. Ships and steamers fishing-boats and transfer-cargo barges in the harbor, were torn from their moorings, dashed against one another, and sunk or carried inland by wind and wave, to be crushed against stone walls or foundered away up country, far beyond the old coast line. An English schooner was hurled against the steamer Hertha, which forthwith sank like a stone. About sixty fishing smacks foundered in Stralsund Harbor alone. The railway bridge held out against the roaring flood for some time, but at last gave way and was engulfed. Even the barracks were inundated. Kiel presents a no less dismal spectacle than Stralsund. Some of its streets are strewn with wrecked boats, tremendous beams and timbers from the building wharves, doors torn off their hinges, window casements, rudder-posts, and all sorts of disjecta membra, carried from their respective places of belonging by the salt flood, deposited, 'purmiscus-like,' all over the lower part of the town. As for the network of telegraphic wires, spun in such labor, and such expense over the face of these northern lands, it has suffered injury to an extent so considerable that all the energy and promptitude manifested by the officials in charge has not sufficed to restore anything like order or normal working condition to the system of home communications, far less to that connecting Berlin with the capitals of foreign countries. Dispatches 'fur das Ausland' have been steadily refused since Wednesday morning, and their would-be expeditors by wire have been forced to forward them by the post. But railway and steamer traffic lines have been disturbed, too; the English mails failed to arrive here for three consecutive days and express trains on main lines are arriving at all sorts of eccentric times not indicated in the 'Fahr plan' from two to eight hours late. This morning we were informed that communication with Posen (Prussian Poland) was restored, and that the total number of crafts foundered at Stralsund is over eighty. All the fishing-boats belonging to Zingst, Darz, and Hiddense are gone to the bottom; eight people were drowned at Ventwitz; all along the coast the inhabitants are ruined, and, moreover, suffering horribly from want of water, the sea having flooded all the wells."

Earthquake Items.

The "shake" of Tuesday afternoon caused some very funny incidents, a few of which are reported below:

Deacon Hall was, when the "quake" commenced operations, busily engaged in unpacking butter from a farmer's box. Doubtless expecting Gabriel to toot his horn, he dropped on his knees in the butter box. It is perhaps unnecessary to say that neither the Deacon's unmentionables nor the butter were improved by the performance.

A fashionably dressed young lady, with an immense panier attachment was tripping lightly across Main street. When she reached the sidewalk a great change was noticeable in her appearance. Her superb panier was no more. In the street was a large assortment of Territorial newspapers. That young person was very much shocked.

John E. McDonald was heard to exclaim "My mortgages, my Maker."

An elderly young lady visiting in the upper part of town had a very narrow escape from death by suffocation. Her very large set of false teeth commenced to rattle, and she swallowed them.

Charley Cannon immediately started to examine his silver mines, and ascertain whether the silver had been shaken out or not.

A leading Helena divine remarked, "Didn't I tell you so?"

Sam Hauser, hearing the rumbling noise that accompanied the shock, rushed into the street shouting: "I'll be —— if that aint the Northern Pacific Railroad!"

An individual standing at the foot of Broadway, seeing the undulating movement of the earth, yelled "Here it comes!" and then broke for the valley like a quarter horse.

Charley Wells was noticed with a stack of county warrants and bonds which he was trying to dispose of before the county bottom was shaken out.

Joe Woolman was observed between shakes trying to bet two to one that it was a genuine earthquake. No takers.

J. K Sherwood shouldered a sack of sugar and rushed into the street swearing that he would save a stake, at least.

Bishop Bullock, as he turned thirteen somersaults down stairs in his frantic endeavors to get out of the Bently block, was heard to ejaculate; "I'll be shot if I don't feel like praying."—Helena Herald.

A Sensible Measure.

It is understood that a bill is now before the Indiana Legislature which provides, among other things, that when a person is declared not guilty of the particular crime for which he or she was indicted and tried, upon the ground of insanity, the jury in the case shall so specify, and the court shall sentence him or her to an insane asylum for a period proportionate to the crime committed. The plea of insanity is getting to be a popular one, and in most cases it succeeds, whether justly or not, and the prisoner is turned out upon a helpless community an adjudged lunatic, as the cases are exceedingly rare where such a lunatic is confined within the walls of a lunatic asylum. Where the wholefield of evidence has been opened and a jury has been forced to declare that there is clear and undoubted testimony, much of it from medical experts of a prisoner's insanity, why should he go at large, the community endangered and law and justice insulted Indiana has done well, and if it carries out the proposition mentioned to its consummation it will do better. The too common plea of insanity has been made ridiculous in practice, and it is about time to inaugurate a new state of things. Under the Indiana principle the prisoner's rights will not suffer If he is really insane the sentence is one of justice and right if he is only shamming insanity no one will deny that he ought to suffer some punishment, and the due non tioned will be generally acknowledged to be mild enough for the crime committed. If such a law existed among us we venture to say that there would soon be a large diminution in such pleas before our courts.— Sacramento Union

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wheat in Liverpool—Average 12s 8½@12s 10d, Club, 12s 9½@12s 4d.

Our local money market is reported by bankers and brokers to be working very close, and there is no doubt but good paper might be heavily discounted Some of our retailers report a distressing lack wardness in the public at a class in the payment of bills, while the jobbers and wholesale dealers in of the same condition of affairs Remittances from country merchants come in slowly, and creditors are disposed to murmur at the refusal of producers to sell their surplus grain, believing that the disposal of the large quantities now held back would bring about a better condition of monetary affairs in the country and enable interio dealers to remit with more promptness.

English Crops

Mr. Caird, an eminent authority on English crop statistics, has lately published an interesting paper on the condition of that market, and the crop prospects for the next year He has great fears for the harvest in 1873, owing to wet weather during seed time, and believes the harvest next year may prevous unproductive as that of 1853, which was one of the worst ever experienced in the United Kingdom, and was a consequence of the wet autumn and winter of 1852 He estimates the requirements during the harvest year from September 1, 1872, to September 1, 1873, at 22 000,000 quarters, or 96,000,000 bushels, which exceeds the largest quantity ever imported in to the Kingdom in a single year. Notwithstanding this heavy requirement, he does not look for extreme prices, for the reason that France has a surplus, and is a contributor instead of a competitor. High prices have brought into the country during the past two months the unprecedented supply of 2,581,000 quarters, or at the rate of nr re than 15,000,000 quarters for the year, is quantity considerably greater than is likely to be required The closing of the American canals and the Russian and Baltic ports will greatly lessen the imports of grain during the winter; but Mr Caird is confident that the home supply and the reserved stock of foreign will suffice until spring, when imports may be renewed to any required extent. Upon the whole, he does not look for much, if any, advance in prices, and although to supply their wants the financial strain upon them will be heavy, it is the harvest of 1873 that now gives rise to the greatest anxiety.

Eastern markets.

Mail dates from New York report the markets as generally quiet Coffee remained firm, under light stocks, with quiet demand. A further advance of ¼c has been effected to the price of Carolina Rice The demand for refined sugar was very quiet, under the partial suspension of work at the refineries, incident to the close of the year Tea exhibited a slight improvement Spices were generally inactive, except a continued moderate movement in Pepper at full rates. Petroleum was still quiet at 30c@31c for lots in tins. The Board of Underwriters have issued some regulations in reference to the stowage of Petroleum in vessels for export, demanding that it be done under the superintendence of an inspector at the rate of ½ per bbl. Nails were steady at the recent reduction It is understood that the production will be reduced 25 per cent. during the next three or four months. Prices of Bengs had undergone some variations. Opium was stronger, a small lot selling at 76 75 gold in bond, and other lots at an advance on that figure, but particulars withheld. Chlorate Potash had risen to 6½ gold. Oils of Bergamot and Lemon were firm at the recent advance Oil Cassia had been sold at $1 75 and Oil Anais at $1 50 gold. Annatto had receded to $1 35 and $1 50 for the best quality. Elm Bark and Sassafras Bark were scarce at 40c and 25c respectively. Crude Brimstone realized $45 per ton. Foreign Fruits were generally lower. Malaga Layer Raisins had settled to $2 10 for double lots; Zante Currants, 6¾@6¾c; Turkish Prunes, 7½c, Citron, 42@42½c for Leghorn and 41½c for Zante Metals were generally quiet There was but little demand Pig Iron or Pig Lead Tin Plates were firm under an advance of 4s in England.

Home Produce Market.

The business under this head has been moderately active since the beginning of the new year. Figures of last week are generally well maintained at the close of this, while in some articles an advance gratifying to producers is noted. The trade of the year is not yet fairly begun, and many entertain strong hopes of a better condition of things by the middle of this month. Our quotations below are as nearly the correct jobbing prices as can be obtained in a market without an Exchange Board or standard of prices by which dealers are governed.

WHEAT—There is more firmness noticeable in the market to-day, and we feel free to quote at $1 70 ₩ cental. Our exporters are apparently easy in regard to the condition of the market, as they say were large buyers previous to the late rise, and have sufficient to load their vessels chartered at high rates, and will either effect charters at lower rates for what they now buy or hold over. The farmer can estimate the net value of his grain by our quotations, by deducting the freight from his farm to Portland and the cost of sack. The latter is generally reckoned by our buyers here at eight cents ₩ bushel, while the farmer of course depends on the distance to be traversed by the grain before it reaches this market. For instance, if our quotation are $1 70 ₩ cental, or $1 02 ₩ bushel, which is the case, then supposing the freight from Albany to be 12 cents ₩ bushel, and the sacking costs 8 cents and we have the Albany price, which is 82 cents.

FLOUR—The market is in a very quiet stagnant pressure, and holders are not anxious to fill large orders at the current rates, there seeming to be a feeling of assurance that the advance in wheat, if kept up, will bring a similar result in the case of the manufactured article. So our former quotations are good for the market to-day.

All quotations for grain, unless otherwise noted, include sacks.

OATS—The market is dull, and jobberware not anxious buyers at 62½c ₩ bushel, which is a fair quotation for the market to-day. The supply on hand is quite large, and trade seems inactive to-day, the only particular demand being for feed consumption.

HAY—We quote wild at $10@12 ₩ ton, and timothy at $20@22 50

BARLEY—We notice a sale of 500 bushels for local use to one of our state breweries at $1 47½ ₩ 100 lbs The market is not active, and from common to choice is quotable at $1 40@1 50 ₩ hundred.

BUTTER—We see no reason to change our last quotations of 24@30c for common country, and dull, and 42@45 for choice for table use, with but little in the market.

EGGS—Prices remain down, and large receipts have a tendency to send them still lower. Dealers this morning called the market "gunted."

POULTRY—Except good lots of chickens the supply exceeds the demand. The quotations are given at $4 50 in lots of choice to supply the home trade. Turkeys and geese are unchanged, and trade dull.

APPLES.—The receipts of the week have been comparatively small, and figures have advanced on good shipping which command 90@$1 per box

PEARS—At $1 15a1 25.

WOOL—But few transactions are noted, the last year's clip being pretty nearly exhausted, and but little speculation on the spring clip of '73 yet.

HIDES—Limited receipts and prices unchanged from quotations heretofore given.

POTATOES—The market is firmer, and choice qualities range at 40 cents per bushel.

ONIONS—Good are quotable at 2½a3 cents per pound, the market is not over-stocked.
